APPLICATION OF BREWING CO. OPPOSED

Fleischman Firm Fights Request of Northwest on Yeast Rate

By Staff Correspondent
Exclusive to The Bulletin
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 6.—A surprise announcement came to light at the tariff board hearing today when the Northwest Brewing company of Edmonton applied for the cancellation of the yeast tax of 3 cents a pound on malt used in the manufacture of yeast and the application was opposed by the Fleischman company, which had bought the Northwest yeast business.

Counsel for the Northwest company advised the company had sold in 1926 business of Fleischman's, but was not a public company and would not be subject to the application for the cancellation of the yeast tax. The Northwest company had received instructions from the Fleischman company that it might be made retroactive and they would claim the money from Fleischman's.

Must Continue

The chairman ruled that the matter of the yeast tax had not been brought to the board and must continue. The Northwest company was asked to continue the matter for the next hearing.
